Copyright TUXDOC Inc. 2017. The website has an updated form with customizable layers, allowing users to personalize the sheet for different settings such as d20 Modern, Urban Arcana, and more. To use this feature, one needs Adobe Acrobat 6 or later. Users can also adjust the design by turning off the silhouette or creating an "Alternity" look. The d20 Modern Character Sheet has gone through updates, reflecting changes from previous versions, including a tweaked version for the Urban Arcana Campaign Setting. A form version is pending bug fixes. A 4-page version of the sheet is available, mirroring the layout of the D&D sheet. The website also features an earlier version of the character sheet with potential changes on the way, and users are encouraged to provide feedback.
